1.0 Introduction

Pursuant to Part XI.B of its Hazardous Waste Management Facility Operating License (License) and in accordance with the May 25, 2012 Interim Response Activity Plan Designed to Meet Criteria Work Plan (Work Plan) (URS, 2012) approved on June 1, 2012, The Dow Chemical Company (Dow), with oversight from the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ), has implemented Year 2 of the presumptive remedy for the City of Midland area soils in 2013. The location of the Facility is shown on Figure 1-1. The areas included in the 2013 implementation activities are shown on Figure 1-2. The purpose of this Annual Report is to provide a summary of the 2013 implementation activities, including:

- Sample Collection;
- Analysis;
- Quality Assurance/Quality Control (QA/QC);
- Year 2 Analytical Results;
- Properties identified for No Further Action;
- Properties identified for Remedy;
- Implementation and Completion of Remedy;
- Construction Quality Assurance;
- Verification of Non-Residential Land Use; and
- Properties Identified for Land Use Monitoring.

2.0 Remedy Design for 2013

Year 2 was implemented in accordance with the 2013 Work Plan and Adaptive Management Plan dated February 15, 2013 and approved by MDEQ on May 3, 2013. Year 2 implementation was completed in three phases, the first of which (Phase I) began in Fall 2012 as an early start to the 2013 work. Work in 2013 was implemented on a Decision Unit (DU)-by-DU basis. Year 2 focused on the properties moving sequentially outwards from the Michigan Operations Midland Plant facility (Midland facility) within the Midland Resolution Area, in three phases:

- Phase I (approved 2012 and initiated in the fall of 2012);
- Phase II (initiated in the Spring of 2013); and
- Phase III (initiated in the Summer of 2013).

The 2013 implementation plan for Year 2 activities initially addressed 816 properties. Because the implementation effort was completed ahead of schedule, 397 additional Decision Units were added in September 2013 (2014 Phase I). The addition of Phase I 2014 was approved with modifications by MDEQ on October 14, 2013, and the results will be summarized in the 2014 Annual Report.

2013 Phase I encompassed the areas described below, with approximately 73 acres of property that is in residential (71 acres) or residential-like (2 acres) use. Roughly 14 acres in this area are in non-residential use. The aerial extent of the Phase I implementation area to the northwest of the Midland facility is:

- Bound to the north by Union St., North St., Arbury St., and Fournie St.;
- Bound to the west by Rodd St. and State St.;
- Bound to the east by East Patrick St., State St. and Bayliss St.; and
- Bound to the south by Patrick St. and Buttles St.

The aerial extent of the 2013 implementation area to the east of Midland facility is:

- Bound to the north by Bay City Road;
- Bound to the west by Sauve Rd.;
- Bound to the east by Sam St.; and
- Bound to the south by Mark Putnam Rd.

2013 Phase II included the areas described below. This area included approximately 50 acres of property that is in residential (42 acres) and residential-like (8 acres) use. Roughly 1 acre in this area is in non-residential use. The aerial extent of the Phase II implementation area to the northwest of the Midland facility is:

- Bound to the north by George St., Haley St., and Colorado St.;
- Bound to the west by George St. and Colorado St.;
- Bound to the east by Bayliss St. and Swede Rd.; and
- Bound to the south by Carpenter St., North St., Arbury Pl., and Patrick Rd.

2013 Phase III included the areas described below. This area included approximately 106 acres of property that is in residential (104 acres) and residential-like (2 acres) use. Roughly 20 acre in this area are in non-residential use. The aerial extent of the Phase III implementation area to the northwest of the Midland facility is:

- Bound to the north by Wyllys St., E. Haley St., Eastlawn Dr., and Carpenter St.;
- Bound to the west by Rodd St., Jefferson Ave., Scott St., and Colorado St.;
- Bound to the east by Swede Rd., Washington St., Scott St., and State St.; and
- Bound to the south by Pine St., Haley St., Airfield Ln., and Colorado St.

The aerial extent of the 2013 implementation area to the east of Midland facility is:

- Bound to the north by Bay City Road;
- Bound to the west by Sam Rd.;
- Bound to the east by Dick St.; and
- Bound to the south by Scheutte Rd.

Table 2-1 presents the properties included in the 2013 implementation activities. These areas are also shown on Figures 1-2 and 2-1.

2.1 Project Work Summary for 2013

Year 2 implementation began with Phase I (Early Start to 2013) in October 2012. 2013 Phase II began in May and Phase III began in July. The following table provides a breakdown by land use and access metrics.

2013 Totals	Number of Properties / DUs
Verified Non-Residential Properties	80
Residential or Residential-like Properties	816 / 858
Total Year 2 Properties	896 / 938
Signed Access Agreements	823 (DUs) ^{a, b}
Properties Sampled	823 (DUs) ^{a, b}
Declined to Participate	16 ^c
No Response from Property Owner	26

^a Access agreements received late for sixteen (16) 2012 properties. These properties were sampled during 2013 and the results are discussed in this report.

^b Access agreements were received late for six (6) 2013 properties. These properties will be sampled with the Early Start to 2014 (2014 Phase I) and the results will be discussed in the 2014 (Year 3) Annual Report.

^c Three (3) properties are owned by one property owner. Dow and its representatives received a verbal decline to participate but do not have a signed document.

Table 2-2 provides additional information on each property, including size of parcel and land use.

2.1.1 Sample Collection

Sample collection activities were completed in accordance with Section 7 of the approved Work Plan. Sampling was based on current land use, physical attributes of the property, and DU area size. Individual DUs that were in residential use include both single and multi-family dwellings. Properties that were treated as residential-like include such categories as parks, schools for children, daycare centers, and playground areas, as presented in the approved Work Plan, and other public areas on a case-by-case basis.

Samples obtained from an individual DU were collected using the incremental composite sampling technique. Soil was collected from a number of locations (increments) and combined into a single sample (composite) representative of the entire DU. The increment collection locations within each DU were generated using a systematic random approach. The increment collection locations were created in Geographic Information System (GIS) in advance of the sampling activity. Three replicate incremental composite samples were obtained from each DU, with the number of increments based on its area (determined as the area not covered by buildings, large immovable features such as decks or pools, and paved areas). The completed increment collection locations by property are presented in Attachment A.

Table 2-3 presents parcels that were divided into more than one DU based on the presence two different residential-like land uses or based on the size of the subject property. There were no developed or partially-developed woodland properties (properties with wooded areas greater than 7,200 square feet [sq ft] in size) in the 2013 implementation effort.

At each DU, actual conditions may have differed from the initial sample plan. The field team made best efforts to sample at the planned locations but, in some cases, had to make adjustments. Table 2-4 provides the justification for any increment adjustments.

In addition, if property owners provided information that the existing lawn was significantly landscaped or fill was placed across much of the property, an additional composite sample was collected from 0 - 12" of soil. Eighty-eight (88) properties included in the 2013 activities were included in this category. These properties are noted in Tables 2-5 through 2-7, described in Section 2.1.3, below.

In accordance with Section 2.2 of the QAPP, samples will be retained until remedial decisions have been made or the end of the calendar year in which the samples were collected, whichever is longer. Based on this, all 2013 soil samples may not be retained beyond December 31, 2013.

2.1.2 Analysis

A total of 823 DUs were sampled and evaluated in 2013. Six (6) properties, in addition to the 823, granted access late in the year and results will also be provided early in 2014 with the 2014 Phase I property results. The primary samples collected at each DU were analyzed by Method 8280 Midland Area Soils (MAS) Site-Specific Fast Analysis method. During 2013 Phase I, when the primary sample result was greater than 220 parts per trillion (ppt) but less than 280 ppt, EPA Method 1613b (with additional chromatographic column confirmation) was performed on the primary sample and two replicates. The three results were used to calculate a 95% UCL for use in remedial decisions.

In accordance with Section 3.2.2 of the approved 2013 Work Plan and Adaptive Management Report and beginning with 2013 Phase II, when the primary sample result was greater than 250 parts per trillion (ppt), Dow either completed a presumptive remedy for the property or demonstrated the concentration was below the SSAL of 250 ppt TEQ by testing all three replicates using EPA Method 1613b with a DB-5ms (or equivalent) column. Method 8280 MAS primary sample results greater than 220 ppt TEQ and less than or equal to 250 ppt TEQ resulted in testing of all three replicates by EPA Method 1613b using a DB-5ms (or equivalent) column. In some cases, Dow elected to analyze the samples using a second confirmation column. Where the second confirmation column analyses were made, those results were used for remedial decisions. During 2013 Phase II, roughly twelve percent (12%) of the EPA Method 1613b analyses were done using a second confirmation column. During 2013 Phase III, roughly thirty-one percent (31%) of the EPA Method 1613b analyses were done using a second confirmation column. The results of the analyses are presented in Attachment B.

During the 2013 implementation activities, a total of 104 DUs (five DUs to the east of the Midland facility and 99 to the north of the Midland facility) had confirmation results run by EPA Method 1613b. This meets the QA/QC frequency of replicate analysis of 10%, with the percentage of replicates equally representative of samples in both the north and east areas. Four of the confirmation results ran only the primary sample and not all three replicates. Attachment C provides a complete description of data validation evaluations.

2.1.3 2013 Analytical Results

The analytical results provided to property owners (to two significant figures) are presented in Tables 2-5 through 2-7. The soil raw data summary tables for 2013 Phase I, Phase II, and Phase III for both the Fast Analysis results and the 1613b confirmation sample results are provided in Attachment B.

Quality assurance data for soil testing (including replicate and split sampling procedures) were used to validate analytical methods. Specific procedures are outlined within the Quality Assurance Project Plan (QAPP) (Attachment C of the approved Work Plan). The Data were validated, and no quality issues affecting remedial decisions were identified. The Validation Report for Year 2 (2013) is included as Attachment C.

The overall results from the 2013 sampling activities are presented in the table below.

2013 Totals	Number of DUs
Year 2 DUs Sampled	823 ^{a, b}
Number of DUs with No Further Action	747
Number of DUs Requiring Remedy	76
Properties that Granted Access Late and will be Sampled During the Early Start to 2014 Phase I	6

^a Access agreements received late for sixteen (16) 2012 properties. These properties were sampled with the Early Start to 2013 (2013 Phase I) and the results are discussed in this report.

^b Access agreements were received late for six (6) 2013 properties. These properties will be sampled with the Early Start to 2014 (2014 Phase I) and the results will be discussed in the 2014 (Year 3) Annual Report.

Dow provided written notification of the results of soil sampling to the individual property owners in a timely manner. The written communication briefly described the next steps for the property owner based on the sampling results, as described below. The notification included contact information for both MDEQ and Dow representatives that were available to discuss the information reported to the property owners.

2.1.4 Properties with No Further Action

Based on the sampling results, no further action was warranted for 747 DUs included in the Year 2 activities. These property owners were notified that no further action was necessary on their property by Dow. MDEQ has reviewed the information provided and sent letters confirming no further action is necessary for these properties.

2.1.5 Properties with Special Circumstances

During the 2013 effort, the following seven (7) properties had special circumstances, which are discussed in detail below.

Parcel 14-21-10-024 is approximately 0.73 total acres, with 0.55 acres of fenced-in junkyard separate from a building and yard area. The property is zoned commercial; however, it had a pre-existing non-conforming use. A remedy was presumptively conducted (i.e. no dioxin analysis of soil was completed) for the portions of the property that were consistent with a residential-like use. This presumptive remedy consisted of the removal of twelve inches of existing soil, replacing with new clean backfill, re-vegetating the area and duct cleaning was presumptively offered to the property owner (no residual risk calculation was performed). Remedy completion documentation is provided in Attachment D.

Parcel 14-16-40-052 is 0.73 total acres in size and was sampled as a single DU. After the sampling activities were completed, the property owner provided information that fill had been added to one side of the yard near the house. This one parcel was made up of 2 lots. It is possible that the lot could be split and a separate dwelling could be constructed on either portion. Based on this information, the parcel was split into 2 DUs, and the DU that did not include the existing house was sampled as a distinct DU. Remedy was not required for either DU.

Standard PPE was upgraded during construction for three parcels (14-15-50-032, 14-16-50-080 and 14-16-30-460); as the levels identified by analysis were above those assumed in the project-specific Health and Safety Plan (Attachment J of the RIWP).

For Parcel 14-16-40-322, the indoor dust evaluation concluded that duct cleaning was warranted. The property owner has declined to schedule the duct cleaning as of the report date. Dow and its contractors notified the property that Dow is required to clean the ducts of the heating and cooling system of the house and provided contact information for the duct cleaning service. Dow and its contractors will follow up with the cleaning service and property owner in the spring.

Parcel 14-15-50-032 had a three confirmation analyses performed by EPA Method 1613b, with two results being 200 ppt and 177 ppt TEQ. The third result being 1,180 ppt TEQ was predominately caused by the elevated presence of a single isomer. This is atypical of all other analytical results seen to date on this project. Five additional analyses were performed on the samples from the property by MAS 8280, with results ranging from 195 ppt to 208 ppt TEQ. Lab contamination or a nugget effect are the two most likely causes of the single elevated result, but neither have thus far been confirmed. Due to the uncertainty associated with the result, a remedy was performed for the property.

2.1.6 Properties with Remedy

Analytical results for 76 DUs indicated that remedy was necessary. An additional remedy was completed at one property presumptively without prior soil testing. Section 3 describes the remedy activities that were completed at these properties.

3.0 Remedy Design for 2013

For those 77 properties where remedy was determined to be necessary, Dow made best efforts and obtained appropriate access from the property owners for implementation of the property-specific presumptive remedy. The presumptive remedy for each residential or residential-like property undergoing remediation included removal of the upper twelve inches (12”) of existing landscaping and soil, followed by replacement with new soil, lawn, and landscaping. The excavated soils were placed into trucks for transport to the Michigan Operation plant site for re-use or to an appropriate disposal facility.

3.1 Property-Specific Work Plans

Dow representatives worked with individual property owners to define individual property-specific work plans during remedy planning. Dow, along with the property owner, developed and documented property-specific remedy plans that met the approved Work Plan objectives and addressed any special concerns of the property owner. At that time, the property owner had the opportunity to communicate specific concerns regarding unique features of their property and these unique features were documented on the property-specific work plan.

3.2 Completed Remedies

The remedy activities were completed in accordance with the approved Work Plan. Any property-specific adjustments were documented. A complete set of remedy documentation for each DU is provided in Attachment D. The Remedy Property Completion Documentation provided in Attachment D includes:

- Remedy Completion Summary Maps;
- Construction Quality Assurance (CQA) documentation;
- Green remediation checklist; and
- Indoor air residual risk evaluation calculations.

Areas that were not removed are noted on the Remedy Completion Summary drawings.

3.3 Construction Quality Assurance

Construction activities were documented by property to record the details of construction, ensure consistency with the presumptive remedy, and note exceptions. The following information was documented as part of construction quality assurance (CQA):

- Area of soil removal;
- Area of undisturbed soil;
- Number of cubic yards of soil removed from the property; and
- Notations for areas where less than 12" of soil were removed (e.g., near tree roots).

Table 3-1 presents the information collected on each of the remedy properties used to complete the construction quality assurance. Construction quality assurance field forms are included in Attachment D.

3.3.1 SWAC Calculation

During remedy completion, portions of each DU remained undisturbed (such as soil remaining beneath appurtenant structures such as decks and pools). As part of the CQA, an average concentration of dioxin and furan TEQ on the property after clean up was calculated to determine if it was less than the Site-specific Action Level (SSAL). The DU weighted average concentration is provided for each remedy property in Table 3-1. Property-specific calculation sheets for each remedy property are included in Attachment D. The total undisturbed and/or inaccessible area TEQ concentration was assumed to be equal to the TEQ concentration determined for the DU prior to cleanup. The TEQ concentration in the remedy areas was assumed to be the concentration from the borrow source. Land under permanent in-ground structures such as houses, paved sidewalks, and driveways was not included in the calculation.

These evaluations also confirmed the percentage of undisturbed remaining soil post-remedy and identified if remedy was required for accumulated indoor dust, as described below.

3.3.2 Indoor Dust Evaluation

Upon completion of the remedy, an evaluation of possible exposure to dust accumulated within dwelling(s) ducts (for those properties with existing structures) was completed by utilizing the analytical result for the DU (soil concentration) and the percent undisturbed remaining soil. The site-specific parameters, and the same assumptions defined in Section 6 of the approved Work Plan, were used in the site-specific algorithm equation to solve for target risk (TR). As stated in the approved Work Plan, duct cleaning will be offered for all DUs with calculated TR values greater than 1E-05. The indoor dust evaluation was completed for 76 properties. These evaluations are included in Attachment D. Based on the SWAC values calculated as part of the CQA evaluations, there was potentially unacceptable risk remaining post-remedy for five (5) properties and duct cleaning for these properties was warranted. During 2013, duct cleaning was offered to the five properties with potentially unacceptable risk. For the property with a presumptive remedy that was completed without sampling, duct cleaning will also be performed prior to the spring of 2014. Duct cleaning has been completed for all but one property where the owner has declined the remedy offer at this time (discussed in Section 2.1.5).

3.4 Verification of Non-Residential Properties

In accordance with the approved Work Plan, a site visit or survey was conducted to verify that non-residential properties (e.g., businesses) were not currently used as a residence or in a manner which constitutes residential-like use. Additionally, non-residential properties bordering residential properties were evaluated for the potential for soil and sediment erosion and transport by surface water runoff. The findings from the survey were summarized and presented in Table 3-2.

3.5 Land-Use Monitoring

Some businesses are located in areas that may allow for conversion to residential or residential-like use. Institutional controls are planned for implementation to prevent residential or residential-like use of these properties in the future. Prior to that time, it is possible some businesses could be converted to residential use. To address this possibility, non-residential properties within the Resolution Area were identified and will be monitored for changes to residential or residential-like land use until appropriate institutional controls prohibiting this use are in place. Table 3-3 presents the properties that will be monitored annually for any changes in land use including both 2012 properties and those added for 2013. Documentation and the findings of the land use monitoring for 2012 properties is presented in Table 3-3. In conjunction with the evaluation of non-residential land use described in Section 3.4, monitoring activities during the project will be conducted in accordance with the approved Work Plan.

No land use changes were identified during land use monitoring for any of the 2012 properties identified as non-residential. The following properties did not grant access in 2012 but did grant access in 2013 and were sampled:

2012 Properties accessed in 2013
14-16-50-088
14-16-40-636
14-21-10-392
14-21-10-322
14-21-10-320
14-16-40-682
14-16-40-644
14-16-40-618
14-16-40-632
14-23-60-110
14-16-40-406
14-16-40-510
14-16-40-626
14-21-10-388
14-15-50-014
14-21-10-550

These properties will no longer be included on the land use monitoring list.

Residential and residential-like properties where owners declined participation in the program in 2013 will have the remedy deferred and funding placed into a Trust at a later date. These properties will be monitored for change in ownership and/or changes in use. If changes in ownership or use are identified, the new owners will be advised of options for testing and/or cleanup.
